

Land Tenure Consulting Services

The Millennium Challenge Corporation (MCC) is a U.S. Government corporation whose mission is to provide assistance that will support economic growth and poverty reduction in carefully selected developing countries that demonstrate a commitment to just and democratic governance, economic freedom, and investments in their citizenry.

MCC seeks multiple Land Tenure and Property Rights experts (rural and urban land tenure, land administration, land access, property registration and related legal and policy reform). Consulting services are needed across the investment project cycle including feasibility assessment, technical consultation with national counterparts, and final project validation prior to submission to investment approval. The persons selected will be hired intermittingly, under various contract types.

MCC will be providing development grants to a variety of nations around the world that can demonstrate the ability to rule justly, invest in their people, and encourage economic freedom. Key MCC principles include economic growth, reward performance, genuine partnership, focus on results, and high-level commitment.

Examples of assignments could include feasibility assessment of country proposals including land issues, consultation on design issues, financial and economic analysis of proposed activities, and other special sectoral or issue-based studies.

Assignments may involve collaborating with local consulting firms, government officials, research entities, or other foreign donors. Based on MCC's core principle of country ownership, consultants must have proven experience and skills in constructively collaborating with host country institutions. Travel to foreign countries will likely be required.

Candidates will be evaluated in accordance with the following factors:

1. Knowledge and Technical capability in land tenure and property rights related fields.
2. Past Experience
3. Billing Rates

Applicants should be fluent in English, with command of other languages spoken by MCA-eligible countries desirable. Excellent written and oral communications skills are required. Please email your resume, with adequate information to determine your qualifications relative to the evaluation factors listed above, to recruitment@mcc.gov and include "Land Tenure Consulting Services" in the subject line.

Additional selections will occur from time to time to fill additional needs. This announcement will remain open through December 1, 2006. The MCC is an equal opportunity employer.
